

Arts 2F / ICS 5 Group Presentation Guidelines
Cadge-Moore

Presentations are scheduled for the last week of class by the instructor. See class presentation schedule for your group's time and day.

Students will be given 10 minutes at the end of two class sessions to meet with your team. During your in-class meetings, provide a contact (e-mail) for each member.

Group members' names and contact information:

_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____

Your group can only include those students who signed up and who are listed on the class presentation schedule.

An outline of the group presentation will be required (one per group). In your outline, specify which part of the presentation each student will cover.

Briefly explain topics listed in the outline. For example, do not simply list "biography" as a topic. Mention what is it about the artist's biography you wish to include.

Include titles of the artworks you will show in your group presentation outline. Groups can show illustrations through a powerpoint presentation, on-line using the web, or images can be projected from xeroxes or books using the classroom overhead projector (Elmo).

Each team is allocated 3 minutes per student. The time of each group presentation will depend upon the size of the team. Make sure to allow each student a full three minutes. Students receive an individual grade for their contribution only (5 pts. Possible).

Remember: Each artist and her/his work can be discussed in terms of content (contextual information). For example, the work of artist Hung Liu may refer to women's lives under the Cultural Revolution in China. One student may introduce the Cultural Revolution as a topic, while another presents on examples of Liu's painting.
