

DE ANZA COLLEGE
NURSING 201, 202, 203, 204

Instructor: CATHERINE HRYCYK, RN, MSCN

Office: S82B Email: hrycykcatherine@deanza.edu

Phone: (408) 864-5529

Office hours: Wednesdays: 10:00 to 12:00 AM

Classroom: S83, See Schedule of Classes for Times

Units: Nursing 201 = 1 Unit
Nursing 202 = 1 Unit
Nursing 203 = 1 Unit
Nursing 204 = 0.5 Unit (

Corequisites: Nursing 201, 202, 203, and 204 students must be in the Associate Degree Nursing Program and registered in the corresponding clinical classes. Three hours laboratory practice for each unit of credit (36 hours total for each unit of credit per quarter).

Course Description: Specialized nursing skills practice for skills mastery performed in campus laboratory setting

Expected Student learning Outcomes:

201

Demonstrate competent administration of non-parenteral medications, aseptic techniques, vital signs and verification of nasogastric tube placement.

202

Demonstrate competent administration of parenteral medications, sterile procedures, insertion of tubes such as nasogastric tube and chest tubes, and use of monitoring devices such as glucometers and telemetry.

203

Demonstrate comprehensive assessments related to the pediatric and the perinatal patient.

204

Demonstrate competency in the management of central intravenous catheter procedures, intravenous push medications, soft restraints and advanced sterile procedures.

Text:

Required:

Skill Testing Guidelines AND Skills Criteria Sheets on Student Nurse Website

Attendance:

This is a positive attendance class. You must log all time spent in the laboratory.

Grading Scale:

This is a Pass/No Pass class.

Reminders:

1. De Anza College will enforce all policies and procedures set forth in the Standards of Student Conduct (see catalogue). Any student disrupting a class/ lab may be asked to leave the class or lab. Administrative follow-up will result.
2. Please remember that no beverages or food of any type are allowed in the classroom/ lab.
3. The Biology, Health Sciences, and Environmental Division Student Handbook are available on-line at: <http://bhs.deanza.edu/StudentHandbook.pdf>. All the information in the Student Handbook does apply in this course and the students will be accountable for this information. This handbook contains many helpful resources for the students, ideas to increase student success, and expectation of classroom behavior.
4. Every student in the Nursing program is responsible for the information provided in the De Anza college Department of Nursing Student Handbook. An updated version is available every September on the School of Nursing web site. Part of your success in this program requires that you be informed of and follow current policies.

5. Student tutors are available at no cost for you. Contact Thomas Bailey if you need one.