

Qualities De Anza's Academic Senate wants in a President

This is based on 36 responses.

Commitment to Shared Power	Sense of Public Mission	Character	Intentional Community Inclusivity	Professional Excellence	Knowledge of College Culture
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Shows real respect for part-time faculty and classified staff ● Tries to reduce bureaucracy and hierarchy ● Solicits and includes student ideas and input 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Shows respect for shared governance ● Shows a sense of public mission ● Shows a commitment to social justice ● Is committed to serving all students ● Can build community support 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Operates with honesty and integrity ● Has a commitment to professional autonomy for faculty and staff ● Is able to hold others accountable ● Has passion, integrity, and a commitment to the college's mission ● Is committed to transparency, honesty, integrity, fairness ● Is intentional rather than reactive 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Has a deep commitment to equity ● Makes decisions and builds relationships with empathy ● Is approachable ● Has excellent listening skills ● Has strong social and emotional awareness ● Is accessible 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Is a hard worker ● Has good skills at collaboration and facilitation ● Has creativity, intelligence, and organizational skills ● Knows how to advocate for a college ● Will be physically present on campus 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Has faculty experience ● Is prepared to understand the wide variety of college programs ● Has a student centered approach ● Has a fearless commitment to the college and community ● Will promote interconnectedness